Regents Permit Tech to Play in Sugar Bowl; Ban Mixed Games in State

Action Will Knock Out Intersectional Home and Home Tilts

ATLANTA, Pa. — The state board of regents today gave Georgia Tech permission to play Pitts-burgh and its Negro football in the Sugar Bowl Jan. 2 but threw future Tech and University of Georgia athletic schedules into jeopardy by banning their participation in non-segregated games played in the state.

The action, taken at a tense session of the regents, apparently knocked out any hopes that Tech or Georgia would be able to schedule home-and-home games with some choice intersectional opponents past the present contracts. The regents handed down their decision in a brief public session after its influential education commission had recommended the step behind closed doors for an hour. The vote was 13-1.

Gov. Marvin Griffin had asked the board to meet in special session to order Tech and Georgia teams not to participate in any athletic events in which a Negro played or in which the stands were non-segregated. Pitt plans to bring one Negro player to the Sugar Bowl game in New Orleans and will have non-segregated facilities in the stadium.

The education committee commended Griffin for his "courageous" stand in objecting to the Tech-Pitt game, a position that threw the Tech campus into frenzied excitement.

One Dissenting Vote
The only dissenting vote came from regent David Rice who tried in vain to ram through a substitute to the committee's recommendation which would have adopted a hands off policy and would have declared confidence in Tech's ability to handle its affairs independently.

Regent Quimby Melton Jr. said the resolution boils down to this:

1. Tech will play in the Sugar Bowl Jan. 2 since it has a contract to do so.
2. Neither Georgia nor Georgia Tech nor any other unit of the university system may compete with an athletic team in the state on which the races are mixed.
3. When Georgia schools are playing outside the state they will observe the customs and rules of that state.

The belated request by Griffin, a 48-year-old champion of segregation, exploded into angry protests by Tech students who burned the governor in effigy at least six times, flooded into the state capital early Saturday and then demonstrated in front of the governor's mansion.

Griffin's stand touched off a flood of protests from throughout the South and students at Mercer University in Macon, Ga., a Baptist supported school, also burned Griffin in effigy.

Find Body of Boy Missing For 53 Days

CRANE, Ind. — An autopsy revealed today that 3-year-old Ronnie Weitkamp died of exposure within 36 hours after his mysterious disappearance last Oct. 11.

Greene County Coroner Delmar Hasler said a pathologist who examined the body, found late Sunday in a gully about 1 1/2 miles from his home at Crane Village, reported there was no indication of foul play.

"He died of exposure on or about Oct. 12," Hasler said. Hasler said weather records showed the night of Oct. 11, the date the boy vanished while playing with other children behind his home on the U. S. Naval Ammunition Depot reservation here, was "rainy and unseasonably cold."

Hasler said he will file a formal verdict of death by exposure this afternoon, ruling out any hint the lad died at the hands of a sex killer 53 days ago.

Hasler said the only marks on the body were leg scratches caused by briars as he trudged through dense thickets, which hundreds of searchers combed in their fruitless hunt for Ronnie shortly after he disappeared.

The coroner said he was convinced Ronnie removed his overalls before he lay down and died. At first, the fact the overalls were found six feet from the body indicated he might have been slain by a sex deviate.

"Ronnie, a fun-loving, tow-headed lad, disappeared from his home last Oct. 11. The full resources of the Crane Naval Depot, where Ronnie's father is a civilian employee, were thrown into the hunt for the boy.

Found by Three Boys
Weeks of intensive, widespread searching over a 10-square mile area failed to turn up a single clue. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Weitkamp, finally based all their hopes on the chance that Ronnie had been kidnapped and was still alive somewhere.

Only last week, on what would have been Ronnie's fourth birthday, they held a little party for the missing boy. There was even a cake with four candles.

The final discovery was made by three teen-age boys, who ran across the body about 50 yards from the grounds of the Crane depot. The boys were frightened and ran away, but state and naval authorities later identified the body on the basis of the clothing and other evidence.

Marines immediately swarmed into the area, guarding the scene of the discovery as well as the Weitkamp home.

Brewer and a third man in the vehicle, Robert Leavelle, 25, Carmi, were taken to Fairfield Memorial hospital. Baker, not seriously hurt, was treated by a physician.

Expect Big Two To Discuss New Cold War

Will Mark Return To Active Diplomacy By the President

GETTYSBURG, Pa. — The White House announced today that British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden will arrive in Washington Jan. 30 for talks with President Eisenhower.

Diplomatic sources in Washington predicted that the talks will deal mainly with Western strategy for coping with the new cold war situation resulting from the failure of the Geneva Big Four foreign ministers conference.

The Big Two talks, expected to last for several days, will mark Mr. Eisenhower's return to active top-level international diplomacy for the first time since his Sept. 24 heart attack. It will be Eden's first trip to Washington since he succeeded Sir Winston Churchill as Britain's prime minister. His last meeting with Mr. Eisenhower was at the Big Four summit conference at Geneva in July.

Most urgent reason for the forthcoming talks, in the view of Washington diplomatic circles, is the sharp change that has come over East-West relations since the July summit meeting. The "Geneva spirit" of friendliness has all but vanished under the impact of new Communist moves, such as providing arms to Egypt, asserting a claim to sole control in four-power Berlin, and actively wooing Asian nations such as India with lavish promises of economic aid.

Eden Cheered in Commons
Other troubles of mutual concern that may come up in the talks are the latest French political crisis and measures to reinvigorate the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

In London, the House of Commons cheered when Eden announced his forthcoming trip. Eden said the President had invited him to "spend a few days as his guest in Washington" and that "this invitation has been cordially accepted."

Eden said his foreign secretary, Harold Macmillan, would accompany him, and that they also would visit Canada after leaving Washington.

The official announcements in Gettysburg and London gave no clue to the nature of the discussions.

Glenn L. Martin, Pioneer Airplane Builder, Dies

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Aviation pioneer Glenn L. Martin, one of the nation's largest airplane builders, died Sunday night of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was 69.

Martin was stricken at his farm home near Rock Hall, Md., where he had been recuperating from a heavy cold and virus infection, according to his physician, Dr. W. Kennedy Waller.

He died in University Hospital here where he was admitted for treatment.

Martin, former head of the huge Glenn L. Martin Co., which he founded just outside Baltimore, had largely relinquished active management of the firm.

Before his illness he had been working on a secret armament development in conjunction with the government.

As early as 1907, Martin was building gliders. He designed and built the old "pusher-type" plane in 1908 and taught himself to fly. A year later he opened one of the first airplane factories in this country.

After Martin launched his first airplane factory he expanded steadily as aviation grew. He became one of the leading plane manufacturers for the old Army Air Force and later the U. S. Air Force.

County Historical Society to Discuss 'Future Home' at Meeting Tuesday Night

At 7:30 p. m. Tuesday the Saline County Historical society will hold its regular monthly meeting in the club room of the Mitchell-Carnegie Library.

Mrs. Guylla Moreland and Wason Lawrence will be present and help with the discussion of a "Future Home" for the Saline County Historical society.

Mrs. Moreland, a writer for "The Cairo Citizen," will tell of the establishment of Magnolia Manor in Cairo. Mrs. Moreland has done extensive research in the field of history and has written articles on famous men in southern Illinois. Her pamphlet, "Mimosa and Magnolia," is familiar to those who have visited Cairo. She was instrumental in securing the Manor as a home for the Societies of Cairo. She will give a step by step account of the origin of the idea and the securing and maintaining this beautiful home.

Mr. Lawrence, president of the Wayne County Historical society, is a leading businessman of Fairfield. The society is a relatively young organization but under the leadership of Mr. Lawrence it has achieved importance. It is one of the most active organizations in Fairfield and boasts of a membership of about two hundred. Mr. Lawrence has led the organization in securing a seventy thousand dollar library and society home, recently completed. Many citizens, not members of the historical society became so interested in its work that large amounts were donated by individuals. Many bequests for the support of the library and home assure its future.

Suggest Laws To Lighten Work Of President

WASHINGTON — The Justice Department has proposed new laws to free President Eisenhower and his successor of minor, time-consuming chores.

The legislative proposals are contained in a study now before the White House staff.

It's Justice Department protocol never to discuss legal questions submitted to it. But this much is known:

1—That the department has suggested laws permitting the President to delegate minor relief bills to certain Cabinet officers.

2—That it also has outlined other ways in which the President could shift duties under statutes already on the books.

The White House requested a study of ways to lighten the presidential workload after Mr. Eisenhower's heart attack. Actually the problem had long been under review by legal experts. But the White House request gave impetus to this work.

Observers stressed today that the department's final draft of recommendations could be announced by the White House or merely used for private review.

The Justice Department already has made clear its opinion that the chief executive can shift many functions to others without adopting new laws.

But the duty of acting on every bill passed by the Congress is vested in the President by law. In the department's opinion this cannot be remedied without legislation. Such legislation would set up standards by which Cabinet members could act on minor measures coming within their bailiwick.

Heavy Snows in Northern Midwest

Snow plows turned out across the northern Midwest today to clear away the heaviest snows of the season.

Meanwhile, a new cold wave took command of the East, dropping temperatures along the Gulf states and Atlantic seaboard.

On the west coast, five persons were killed on rain-slicked highways in Los Angeles County.

The weekend storm that swept the Midwest piled up nearly a foot of snow across the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and Upper Michigan. Traffic was slowed to a crawl before snow plows began bucking the drifts.

Addresses Labor Convention By Telephone

Unified Group Warned It Must Protect Minorities

NEW YORK — President Eisenhower told the newly merged AFL-CIO today it has a "great opportunity" to bolster the Democratic process.

But he warned the unified labor group it must protect "scrupulously" the rights of its minorities holding different political, economic and other views.

Mr. Eisenhower addressed the merger convention by telephone from his tiny temporary White House office in Gettysburg, Pa.

Praising labor's contribution to the general welfare and to the fight for a free world, he told the new 16-million-man union group it can help build better citizenship at home and "help liberate hundreds of millions from misery and slavery" abroad.

Bound by Common Goal

"You are more than union members bound together by a common goal of better wages, better working conditions, and protection of your security through collective bargaining."

"You are American citizens... And while all of you, as to the public business, have a common goal—a stronger and better America—your views as to the best means of reaching their goal vary widely, just as they do in any other group of American citizens."

"So in your new national organization, as well as in your many constituent organizations, you have a great opportunity of making your meetings the world's most effective exhibit of democratic processes."

"In those meetings the rights of minorities holding differing social, economic and political views must be scrupulously protected and their views accurately reflected."

"In this way as American citizens you will help the republic correct the faulty, fortify the good, build stoutly for the future, and reinforce the most cherished freedoms of each individual citizen."

Elect Meany President

Mr. Eisenhower thus touched off the announced fears of some Republicans that a unified labor movement might become, or attempt to become, a controlling factor in national politics.

Mr. Eisenhower made it plain he does not believe the union members think or vote as a bloc.

The President's message was delivered after the historic merger convention was officially opened before a crowd of cheering delegates and some 2,000 spectators in the 71st Regiment Armory.

George Meany, 61-year-old head of the AFL, was elected president of the newly merged organization. He was nominated by Walter Reuther, head of the CIO. Meany's election was agreed upon in advance in the process of merging the two groups.

The convention also elected 27 vice presidents—17 from the AFL and 10 from the CIO—and nominated William Schnitzer to be secretary-treasurer of the new AFL-CIO.

Receive Complaints Of Illegal Parking

City police said they have been receiving complaints of motorists parking on the left side of the street and pointed out there is an ordinance against such a practice.

They also pointed out that if anyone parks on the left side of a street and later someone parks opposite him on the right side of the street, blocking off the traffic, the car that is parked the wrong way is the one that blocked the street.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
White House Staff Hasn't Been Giving Either Ike Or The Public The Facts; Benson Sues
Some Farmers On Dried-Milk
Sale; Dried-Milk Deal Aided Feed Manufacturers, Not Farmers.

WASHINGTON. — How much the White House staff has been fooling the public about the alleged problems allegedly discussed with President Eisenhower was illustrated when he held his first meeting with the cabinet and the National Security Council at Camp
David on November 21 and 22.

When cabinet members arrived at Camp David and were greeted by Eisenhower, newsmen were near enough so they could easily hear some of the conversation.

And they were flabbergasted to hear the President remark in a tone of great surprise, "You mean to say that the French just got up and walked out of the assembly?"

He was referring obviously to the French walkout from the United Nations when the UN voted to consider the question of Algeria.
This walkout occurred September 30.

However, Henry Cabot Lodge,
U. S. ambassador to the UN, visiting the President in his hospital in Denver had come out of the hospital to tell newsmen that one of the matters he had discussed with Eisenhower was the French walkout from the United Nations.
Ambassador Lodge made this statement to newsmen on October 24.

It was nearly one month later that the President at Camp David, Md., was overheard to exclaim with surprise over the French walkout.

DRIED MILK DEAL

One thing that irks farmers is the apparent lack of interest in the farm problem in the highest places in Washington. Farmers generally recognize that the farm problem is not an easy one, but would feel happier if they were sure some real attention was given to the problem.

Two developments have recently increased their dissatisfaction.

One was the statement to the press issued from Camp David that the farm problem "had not even been discussed" at the first cabinet meeting with Eisenhower.
Naturally it seemed to farmers that agriculture, as one of the most pressing problems in the nation, should have been discussed at the first cabinet meeting following Ike's return.

Second is the litigation started against farmers by Secretary Benson for failing to mix or use un-dried milk purchased from the government before Nov. 1, 1954.

Farmers and feed dealers who failed to mix or use the milk by that date are being fined, in some cases up to $5,000.

This litigation arises from the Agriculture Department's sale of 450,000,000 pounds of surplus dried milk chiefly to feed dealers and to a few farmers during the summer of 1954.

At that time soya bean and cottonseed meal, which are mixed with cattle, hog and chicken feed to bring up the protein content, were up in price. And supposedly for the purpose of reducing the price of feed the Commodity Stabilization Service sold half a billion pounds of dried milk at 3 1/2 cents a pound despite the fact that it had cost the taxpayer 16 1/2 cents a pound when acquired under the price-support program.

It was stipulated, however, that the dried milk had to be used up or mixed by November 1, presumptively so that large unused amounts would not depress the price of soya beans and cotton seed when those crops came onto the fall market.

FEED-MEN'S WINDFALL

However, an investigation by a House Appropriations subcommittee claimed that the deal was arranged in order to give a profit to the big feed manufacturers.

"A substantial profit was possible as a result of the low price at which this vast volume of dried milk was sold," stated Harris Huston, investigator for the House committee.

"The price," he reported, "was set following an informal conference with representatives of the American Feed Manufacturers Association held in Washington March 24, 1954."

Here, an interesting personage entered the picture. Walter Berger, former president of the American Feed Manufacturers Association, took over the job of No. 2 man in the Commodity Stabilization Service on March 15, just nine days before this meeting with his old friends of the American Feed Manufacturers Association.

One month before this, another big feed manufacturer, James A.
McConnell, head of the Cooperative GLE Exchange in Ithaca, N.
Y., one of the biggest feed distributors in the east, had become No.
1 man in Commodity Stabilization.

They arranged the dried-milk deal of such benefit to the feed manufacturers. A few farmers, being rugged individualists, also bought dried milk direct from the government, though Berger's people seemed surprised at this and blatantly remarked that the program was designed primarily for the feed manufacturers.

SUING FARMERS

However, here is the sequel.
After Nov. 1, 1954, Berger sent inspectors around to check on both farmers and feed manufacturers to see if they had mixed their feed and those who didn't are now being sued for the difference between the 3 1/2-cent price they paid the government and the commercial price of 17 cents.

Second, the big feed manufacturers did not reduce the price of feed, which was supposed to be the primary purpose of selling them the dried milk. In other words, the feed manufacturers, of whose association Berger for eight years was president, got cheap dried milk, but sold their feed for about the same price.

Concluded the House Appropriations committee:

"Personnel in charge of the sale of dried milk under this program have taken credit for a superlative accomplishment — 'having sold more dried milk at a great overall loss to the taxpayers than ever before in all history.'"

Note—Walter Berger, who helped arrange the milk deal, is the same Benson appointee whom I revealed as having retained his stock in the Shea Chemical Co. which does fertilizer business with the Agriculture Department. Berger also proposed a plan to remove indirect supports on vegetable oils which would have meant a 120,000,000 windfall to the big soap and margarine makers.

Grant Immunity To Witnesses In Tax Scandals

ST. LOUIS — Immunity was indicated today for witnesses who "cooperate" in the St. Louis federal grand jury investigation of tax scandals.

Special assistant Wyllys S. New-comb said Sunday that "it is the policy of the attorney general in situations of this kind to encourage people to cooperate."

It was learned that Irving Sachs, shoe wholesaler who was fined $40-000 for income tax evasion, was granted immunity from further prosecution by waiving his right to lawyer-client privilege.

As a result, the grand jury was able to study records which resulted early last week in the indictment of two former Truman administration officials and a lawyer for conspiracy to defraud the government through bribery and perjury.

Those indicted were Matthew J.
Connelly, one-time White House appointment secretary; former Asst.
Atty. Gen. T. Lamar Caudle, and Harry I. Schwimmer, former Kansas City attorney.

First Fulltime Grid Coach at U. I. Dies

DANVILLE, Ill. (AP)—Arthur R. Hall, 86, first full-time football coach at the University of Illinois, died Sunday in Danville's Lake View Hospital.

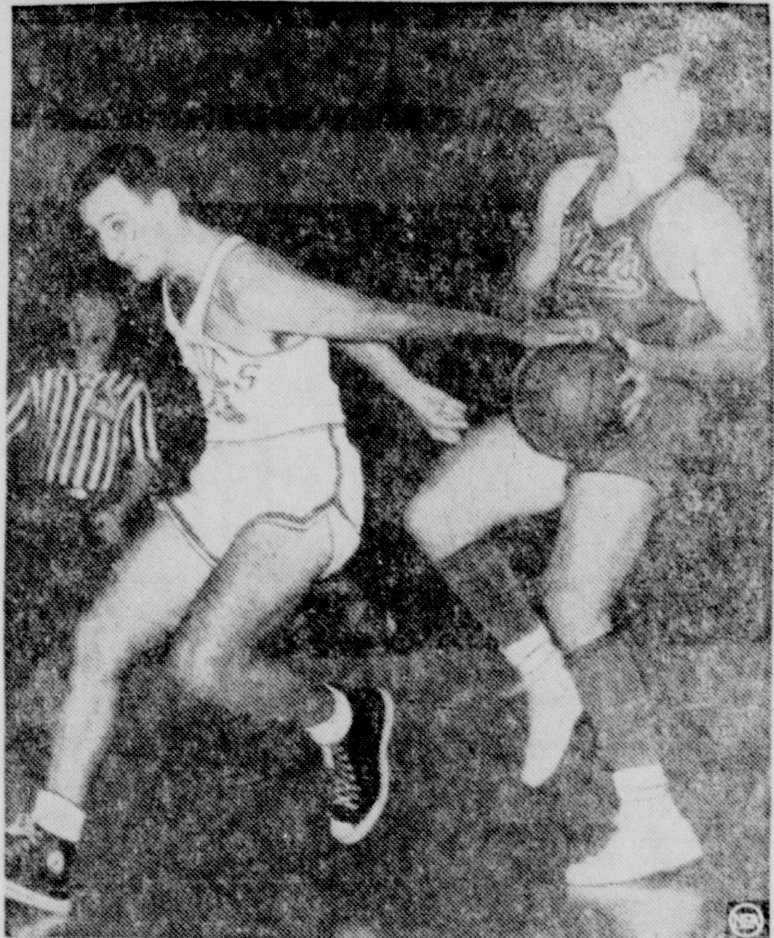

Hall coached Illini football teams from 1907 to 1913, when he was succeeded by Robert Zuppke. Before Hall, the university's teams were coached either by students or part time by faculty members.

Hall entered retirement in 1954 when he ended 16 years as probate judge of Vermilion County. He entered the hospital last week.

He is survived by his widow, Ada, and a son, Arthur R. Jr., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Monmouth, Ill.

Funeral services are scheduled Tuesday at St. James Methodist Church in Danville.

Home craftsmen bought more than $200,000,000 worth of power tools last year.

Washington Man Wins Amateur Stake at Trials

MARION, Ill. (AP)—The man who traveled farthest for the National English Springer Spaniel Association's annual field trial won its amateur shooting dog stake Sunday.

De Lancey Nicoll of Friday Harbor, Wash., and his spaniel, San-Dwan Sam, won the event at Crab Orchard Refuge near here.

Nicoll also took third place in the event with another of his dogs, San-Dwan Jock of Inver.

Fifteen amateur dog handlers entered the competition in which they handle their own dogs and try to shoot down the pheasants the dogs flush.

The regular championship event for springer spaniels ended Saturday with the naming of the association's first two-time champion, Ludovian Bruce of Greenfair, the winner last year, repeated for Joseph Quirk of Greenwich, Conn. Larry MacQueen of Pottersville, New Jersey, handled the dog for Quirk.

The other top finishers Saturday were Micklewood Scud of Armforth Kennels, Chicago, in second place and Saughton's Samson owned by Robert McLean of Fort Washington, Pa., third.

Beal Receives Commendation on American All-State

The Chicago American, after selecting "All Northern" and "All Southern" football squads, has announced its All-State 33-man grid group.

Three players from this immediate area—Lindell Lovellette, guard from Eldorado; Joe Wendryhoski, West Frankfort center; Jim McPherson, Herrin quarterback—are members of the all-state squad.

From the E. St. Louis area are Bob Benton, tackle from E. St. Louis; Bill Curry, guard from Granite City and Al Sonnenberg, Collinsville fullback.

Sixteen of the players are from the Chicago area.

Tony Beal, Harrisburg's fine fullback, received outstanding commendation. Others from the South Seven conference in this group were Charles Hamilton of Herrin and Larry McGreevey, Centralia.

The squad was selected with the help of 469 high school football coaches in the state of Illinois, the story states.

SIU Defeats Wabash, 67-60, In Overtime Tilt

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind.—After trailing by five points at the half, Southern Illinois university's cage team edged past Wabash college, 67-60, in an overtime thriller in SIU's opening game here Saturday night.

Southern was behind almost the entire game, Wabash holding a 32-27 halftime lead and a four-point, 57-53, advantage with only two and a half minutes left. Harvey Welch, Centralia forward, who was the main stay of the night, then sank a long shot and captain Joe Johnson, Mt. Vernon guard, drove in for a basket to tie the score at 57-57.

With two minutes left, Wabash went into a stall, hoping for a Southern foul or a last-second field goal. Putting up a great defensive effort, the Salukis not only refrained from fouling, but kept the Wabash squad from good scoring positions.

Just as the horn blew, Bob Getto, Wabash center, tried for a goal, but the ball hit the rim and bounced off, sending the game into overtime.

Southern wasted little time in the extra period as Johnson sank two quick setups and Dick Blythe, Hammond, Ind., and Welch added points to sew up the game.

SIU's offensive punch was only fair, but defensively the Salukis sparked. Welch was the real Southern hero as he sank five straight field goal attempts early in the second half to get SIU back in the game. He also was high with 20 points. Seymour Bryson, Quincy freshman playing his first college game, showed signs of newness, but displayed great possibilities as he was Southern's top rebounder. He also hit for nine points.

Three Wabash players, John Thrapp, Ben Fellerhoff, and John Nash were high for the losers with 13 points each.

SIU opens its home season at Carbondale Tuesday night, Dec. 6, against Illinois Wesleyan. Game time is 8:15 with a junior varsity tilt with Murray, Ky., at 6:15.

Cardinals Buy Pitcher Kinder

CHICAGO (AP)—Elderly Ellis Kinder, who at 41 is the oldest pitcher in the majors, returned to his old St. Louis home today in a new role as a relief expert for the Cardinals.

He was purchased from the Boston Red Sox Sunday for the $10,000 waiver price.

That was the first deal of any consequence since last week when the Tigers brought back veteran righthander Virgil Trucks in an even-up trade for outfielder Bubba Phillips, who went to the White Sox.

Wildcats Edge Carterville To Win, 59 to 58

Carrier Mills barely outlasted Carterville Saturday night to win a 59-58 victory. The game was played at Carterville.

Apparently hampered by that "let down" feeling after the rousing game Friday night against Johnston City, Carrier Mills was forced to go all out to get the victory. In fact victory wasn't assured until after the final buzzer had sounded.

With CM holding a one-point lead, a Carterville player got off a shot just as the final horn sounded, the ball hit the back of the rim, rolled around, dipped in, then climbed out and finally fell off to the floor. Both teams could only wait and hope. Carrier Mills' hopes were fulfilled and Carterville swallowed the bitter pill of disappointment.

Carrier Mills received unexpected scoring support from a couple of little used players—Cowger and Cofield—who hit for ten and eight points respectively. J. C. Stormes also came up with three baskets at crucial moments.

Oliver Rollins experienced his "coldest" night of the season, hitting for only eighteen markers. Reid, who has been playing fine ball of late, was whistled for three fouls early that slowed down his point production. However, Coach Claude Shelton found adequate strength on the bench to put CM in the winning column.

New game for Carrier Mills is listed for Saturday, Dec. 10, when Harrisburg makes a call at the Wildcat gym.

Name Board of Coaches to Rate Illinois Teams

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The United Press today announced formation of its 1955-56 Illinois "Sweet Sixteen" coaches rating board, which will rank high school basketball teams week-by-week in order of strength.

For the fifth straight year, the 15 coaches of last year's downstate entries in the state basketball tournament finals will vote on the top downstate teams for United Press.

In a pre-season survey, which the coaches agreed to "strictly for practice," they rated Rockford West as the team to beat. All but two of the 13 willing to crawl so far out on a limb rated the Warriors tops, but several have since sent notice their predictions came before John Wessels, 6 foot 7 inch center, was suspended for disciplinary reasons.

Pinekevill got the other two first-place pre-season votes.

The coaches board includes Alex Saudargas, who masterminded Rockford West to the 1955 crown; William R. Chesbrough, coach of second-place Elgin; Frank Adams, who has left Galesburg High for Knox College; Ernie W. Eveland, record-holding coach of Paris; Gay A. Kintner, Decatur; Don Sullivan, who moved from Peoria Spaulding to Farmer City between seasons; Paul Johnson, Lincoln; George Latham, Quincy; Merrill (Duster) Thomas, amazingly successful coach at Pinekevill; Elgie W. Posey of Alton; Barney Genisio, last year coach at Shawneetown, now a school superintendent at Benton; C. T. (Toby) Scott, Georgetown; Don Sheffer, Princeton; Greg Sloan of Park Forest Rich; and Jack Foley, Moline.

Southern's official protest was expected to come Tuesday or Wednesday, according to Dempsey Reed, member of the Western athletic board.

Reed described Esposito's ineligibility ruling as "unfortunate" and a "misunderstanding." Esposito had played three years at North Dakota State before playing junior varsity ball at Western this year.

Reed said the athletic board was not aware that a player could use up his eligibility by playing junior varsity football before the season opened.

Warriors Lose To Royals, 107-84

By United Press
The Philadelphia Warriors' attempt to run away with the National Basketball Assn. was halted temporarily today by a combination of the Rochester Royals and bad weather.

The Royals took care of the point scoring on their home court Sunday night to beat the Warriors, 107-84, and break Philadelphia's budding winning streak at two games. The weather set up the victory by grounding the Warriors' plane that had been scheduled to take them from Newark, N. J., to Rochester.

The Warriors had to travel the 200-mile distance in an all-day cab ride and arrived in a weary condition. They held the Royals to a 25-21 first-quarter lead but then Rochester romped. Jack Twyman made 25 points for Rochester and Neil Johnston had 21 for Philadelphia.

In other Sunday games, the Fort Wayne Pistons beat Boston, 111-90, as the Syracuse Nats rallied to beat Minneapolis, 102-96.

The Pistons held a 45-44 halftime lead over Boston but blew the game open by outscoring the Celtics, 34-16, in the third period. Seven Pistons scored in double figures, topped by Larry Foust's 18 points, while Ed Macauley of the Celtics took game honors with 19.

Syracuse won with a string of seven straight points with three minutes left in the game on a three-pointer by Adolph Schayes, two free throws by John Kerr, and a set shot by Schayes. George King led the Nats with 25 points, but Clyde Lovellette had 26 for the Lakers.

Western Illinois To Forfeit 3 Grid Games

MACOMB, Ill. (AP)—The athletic board of Western Illinois State College was scheduled to meet today to forfeit three of its conference football games.

Frank Esposito, a second-string halfback from Chicago, was declared ineligible by the Interstate Intercollegiate Conference because he played junior varsity ball before the season began.

One of the games in which Esposito played was a 13-13 tie with Southern Illinois which prevented Southern from sharing the conference championship with Michigan Normal and Central Michigan. Each team ended the season with 5-1 records.

Southern's official protest was expected to come Tuesday or Wednesday, according to Dempsey Reed, member of the Western athletic board.

Reed described Esposito's ineligibility ruling as "unfortunate" and a "misunderstanding." Esposito had played three years at North Dakota State before playing junior varsity ball at Western this year.

Ohio State, Indiana Score Easy Victories; May Be 'Sleepers' In Big 10 Race

CHICAGO (AP)—Ohio State, tail end finishers in the Big Ten basketball campaign last year, and Indiana, which finished one rung above the Buckeyes, looked like the "sleepers" in the 1955-56 race on the basis of first performances.

Robin Freeman, who averaged 27.8 points in six conference games last season, was still as deadly as a radar bomb-sight in the Buckeyes' impressive opening victory over Butler, a team which earlier beat Wisconsin.

Freeman, a sensation for the Bucks before he became ill last year, scored 24 points in Ohio's 73-51 triumph.

The Buckeyes host Vanderbilt tonight and are the only Big Ten team favored to win in three games. Northwestern, loser to Western Michigan Saturday night, will be a prohibitive underdog at Kansas and Notre Dame was a heavy favorite over Wisconsin on the Irish home court.

Illini Host Butler

Illinois, which finished in a second place tie with Minnesota last year, opens its season against Butler at Champaign Tuesday night.

Branch McCracken's "terribly inexperienced" Hoosiers rolled over Ohio University, 93-74, Saturday, and came up with a replacement for Don Schlundt in Archie Dees, a 6-foot, 8-inch sophomore center. McCracken had been asking plaintively how a team which had lost Schlundt, highest scorer in Big Ten history, could be classified as a title contender.

Dees and two other sophomores—forward Jerry Thompson and Charles Brown—answered McCracken's question. Dees pushed in 21 points playing less than 30 minutes and Thompson and Brown got 29 between them.

Iowa Still Hot

But the team to beat still was undefeated champion Iowa. The well-balanced Hawkeyes defeated Nebraska, 60-51, in the nationally televised game Saturday afternoon.

The Hawkeyes again showed unique balance with veterans Bill Logan, Carl Cain, Bill Schoof and Bill Seaberg all hitting in the double figures.

Minnesota, always a title threat under the coaching of Ozzie Cowles, downed a strong DePaul team, 82-78. The Gophers hit 30 of 69 field goal attempts for a fancy 44.5 average, pretty fair shooting for their first game.

Junior Jed Dommeyer, a 6-foot, 3-inch service returner, hit 11 of 26 field goals and scored 25 points for the Gophers, who are minus three of last year's aces—Dick Garmaker, Chuck Mencil and giant center Bill Simonovich.

Purdue edged Missouri, 62-58, and was paced by veterans Ron Jecha, Joe Sexson and 6-foot, 6-inch Lamar Lundy, who scored 8 points even though he just reported for practice after the close of the football season.

Northwestern was upset by Western Michigan for the second time in three years, 72-67, despite guard Dick Mast's 24-point effort, and Michigan bowed to a fast-breaking Pittsburgh team, 75-66. Ron Kramer sparked the losing cause with 16 points.

Joe Louis to Wed On Christmas Day

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Former heavyweight champion Joe Louis announced today he will be married on Christmas Day to Rose Morgan, 40, a wealthy cosmetics manufacturer.

The 41-year-old Brown Bomber said he will make his third trip to the altar in Miss Morgan's St. Albans, N. Y., home in the presence of "a few close friends." It will be the second marriage for Miss Morgan, who is known to her friends as "the Helene Rubinstein of Harlem."

Louis was twice married and divorced by Marva Trotter. He is the father of a daughter, 12, and a son, 8.

Reds Training Economic Guns On the Free World

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Soviet Russia is now stepping up economic warfare against the free world. This is seen in Washington as the newest phase of the cold war.

Where political subversion has not proved effective in the past, the Communists are now apparently hoping that economic penetration will succeed.

The trip of Russian leaders Bulganin and Khrushchev to Afghanistan, Burma and India is viewed as sales promotion. The Russians are already building roads and communication facilities in Afghanistan. They are building a steel mill in India. Through the Czechs, an offer has been made to build another steel mill in India and one in Burma.

The widely publicized Czech deal to swap surplus arms to Egypt for raw cotton is only one phase of Communist infiltration in this area.

CONSIDERED JUST AS IMPORTANT, though not as great a war threat, is the Russian offer to build the Aswan dam on the Nile River. The Russians have offered to finance construction at 2 per cent interest. That is tough to beat. The World Bank proposal to finance the dam is at 4 per cent.

The purpose behind these deals is analyzed here as no friendly gesture to liberalize cultural relations. An ambitious, two-fold motive is seen.

The first is to plant Soviet technicians in the free world countries. Indication of this is found in the new Russian interest in technical assistance to underdeveloped countries through the United Nations.

WASHINGTON—The Supreme Court agreed today to decide whether state "right to work" laws, forbidding compulsory union membership, may supersede federal laws permitting union shop contracts.

It marked the first time the high court has agreed to review the controversial state laws which restrict unions more sharply than the federal Taft-Hartley and railway labor laws. Seventeen states have such statutes.

Today's case was brought by 16 AFL railroad unions. They appealed a Nebraska Supreme Court decision that a 1951 amendment to the Federal Railway Labor Act is unconstitutional because it permits railroad workers to enter into union shop agreements with their employers.

The state court held that this violates the state's "right to work" law which provides that workers have the right to decide for themselves whether they wish to join a union.

Under a union shop, all workers are required to join a union 30 days after they are employed.

In their appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court, the unions argued that the state court interfered with Congress' power to regulate interstate commerce. They also noted that the Supreme Court has never ruled against union shops, which are permitted under the Taft-Hartley Act.

The Supreme Court will schedule arguments on the case and hand down its decision later this year.

Mrs. Louie Vogt Of Norris City Dies

Mrs. Nellie Vogt, 78, wife of Louie Vogt, Norris City RFD 2, died at 5:30 a. m. today in the Harrisburg hospital.

Besides her husband she leaves a son, Dennis Montgomery, Girard, Ill., and one daughter, Mrs. Ira Robertson, Eldorado.

The body is at the Martin funeral home in Eldorado and funeral plans have not been made.

The second aim is believed to be a simple matter of securing critical materials. Getting rice from Burma, cotton from Egypt, rubber from Ceylon, coffee from Brazil, wheat and meat from the Argentine and Uruguay are examples.

IN EXCHANGE, THE RUSSIANS have been drawing freely on the resources of their European satellites. Thus Polish coal, East German chemicals and Czech machinery have figured in some of the Russian deals. Their newest "commodity" for economic warfare is outmoded planes, tanks, guns and ammunition.

Though the Communist countries are themselves short on oil, petroleum products from Russia and Romania have been offered in trade to Latin-American countries. Red oil deliveries, however, have not been up to promises, according to reports received here.

Where absolutely necessary, the Russians will pay cash.

In recent months the Soviet Union has begun to sell gold again. Vice Adm. Walter S. DeLany, deputy director of the International Cooperation Administration in charge of mutual defense assistance control, has just disclosed this development in testimony before the Joint Congressional subcommittee on foreign economic policy.

THERE ARE TWO EXAMPLES of Soviet strategic cash buying in this country.

The first Russian farm mission bought Santa Gertrudis cattle in Texas to build up their livestock herds. The second Russian farm mission, now awaiting clearance to come to the U. S., wants to buy hybrid seed corn and farm machinery.

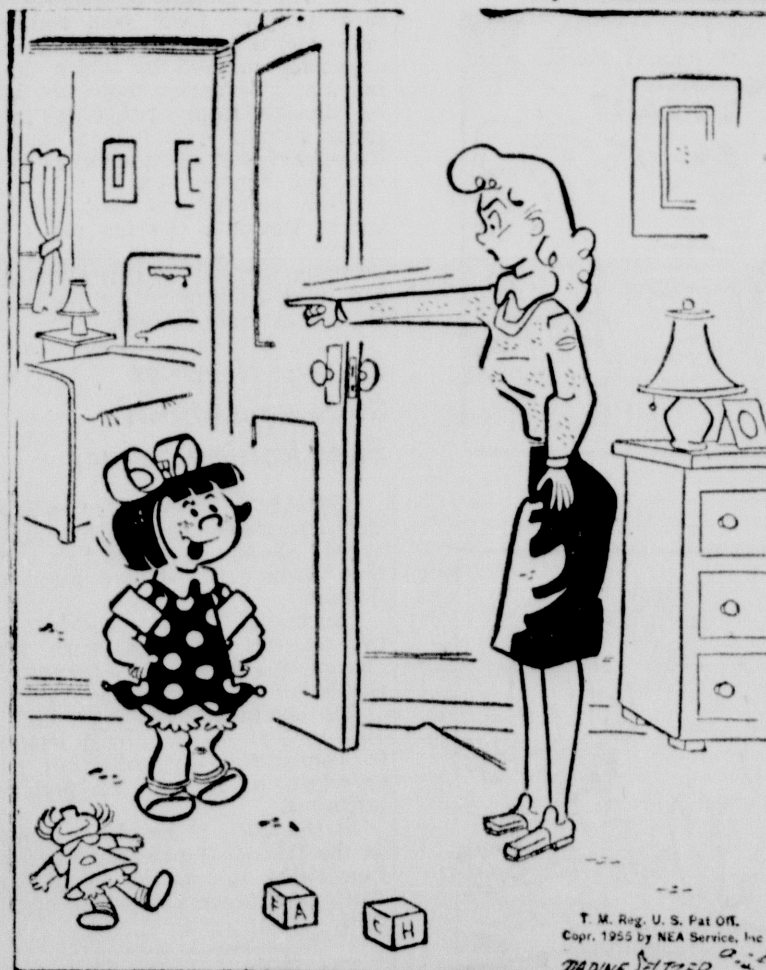

Today's volume of Communist bloc-free world trade is not large, according to the latest breakdown by Admiral DeLany. For the year ending June 30, 1955, it totaled 3.75 billion dollars.

This is only a little over 2 per cent of the 158 billion dollar volume of international trade among the free world countries for the same period. While free world trade has risen from 41 billion dollars in 1938 to 158 billions in 1955, trade with the Reds is still the same.

Because this east-west volume is small, a few officials in Washington believe it is unimportant. The prevailing opinion, however, is that all Communist trade is aimed at a strategic build-up. Any new increase in this trade is therefore important to watch.

New Eisenhower Farm Program in January May Ask Ceiling on Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration may present a new farm program to Congress in January which would put a ceiling on government aid to big farm operators.

Authoritative sources said today the administration is "actively considering" a major change in farm policy.

The change would limit the amount of price support payments to any one farmer, informed sources said. This would not affect the man running a family-size farm but would deal with the big, commercial farmer.

Other farm policy changes under consideration by high administration officials involve bushel and pound limits on marketing of some surplus-produced crops, and sale of surplus cotton abroad at competitive prices.

A ceiling on support payments would be aimed at curtailing commercial production of surplus crops.

The changes presumably would be tied in with a soil fertility back plan now under consideration by the National Agricultural Advisory Commission. This would involve the retirement of surplus farm land from crop production through government payments.

A soil bank would be a means of stopping the build-up of farm surpluses through acreage control.

House GOP Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. (Mass) has confirmed the administration is working on a farm program to "give farmers some hope." He volunteered to reporters that it might include some kind of soil bank.

Sens. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.) and Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) debated the farm situation on a Sunday TV program.

Capehart said farm income and prices will never rise until this country gets rid of its seven billion dollars worth of agricultural surpluses. He suggested a "radical and bold" program to give the surpluses away or destroy them, if necessary.

O'Mahoney objected. "I don't believe in destroying farm products. I believe in having them consumed," he said.

Revenue Service to Aid—Not Prepare Returns for 1955

The 1956 taxpayer assistance program of the Internal Revenue Service in this region, during the income tax filing period from January 2 to April 18, 1956, will be aimed primarily at helping taxpayers to help themselves.

This new approach to taxpayer assistance in this region was announced today by Regional Commissioner, D. L. Olsen, who said it is in conformity with a policy laid down by the Washington office.

The Service will furnish taxpayers advice and information but will not continue the former practice of completely preparing returns.

Taxpayer assistance activities conducted in the Chicago region during the past filing period expended 471,423 man-hours which resulted in a substantial disruption to normal audit and collection activities. Olsen pointed out that if the above manpower had been used on the examination of income tax returns and in the collection of taxes, it would have resulted in a very substantial increase in revenue.

The Internal Revenue Service will mail with the 1955 income tax forms adequate instructional material to cover the problems encountered by the average taxpayer in the preparation of his return. Telephone assistance will be provided by district offices to assist taxpayers with specific problems.

Mr. Olsen said that returns will be prepared for taxpayers who are physically or mentally unable to prepare their own returns. Other taxpayers who find it difficult to fully prepare their own returns may avail themselves of a self-help assistance method by which desk space and necessary materials will be furnished in order that they may prepare their own returns under the supervision of an internal revenue agent instructor.

Olsen pointed out that the Internal Revenue Service plans to conduct an extensive educational program throughout this region to further assist taxpayers in the preparation of their returns.

Change Name of State Republican Fund Raising Agency

CHICAGO (AP)—The official state Republican fund raising agency will change its name Feb. 1 to the "United Republican Fund of Illinois."

Charles H. Percy, president of the agency, said the name was chosen to indicate more accurately the statewide scope of the fund.

The committee was organized in 1935 by a group of Chicago leaders to coordinate the collection and spending of money for political purposes.

In the past, it has been known as the Illinois Republican Citizens' Committee and as the Republican Citizens' Finance Committee of Illinois.

If you are a victim of these symptoms then your troubles may be traced to Glandular Inflammation. Glandular Inflammation is a constitutional disease and medicines that give temporary relief will not remove the causes of your troubles. They have found soothing relief and a new zest in life. The Excelsior Institute, devoted to the treatment of diseases peculiar to older men by NON-SURGICAL Methods, has a New FREE BOOK that tells how these troubles may be corrected by proven Non-Surgical treatments. Murder in Haiti

by John W. Vandervoort

XXXVI
Lynch eyed Lund reflectively. "Would it make a great deal of difference to you who Manfred Braun was, Doctor?"
"You have proof?" Lund asked.
"I have in my pocket," said Lynch, "what I am reasonably certain is one of three valid copies of Adolf Hitler's will. We found it in Braun's cabin. It was written in the bunker beneath the Reichschancellery in the last days of April 1945. It appoints 'my most faithful Party comrade, Martin Bormann' executor and elects him Party Chancellor. The same Martin Bormann witnessed Hitler's wedding to Eva Braun, whose name I think he borrowed. The same Bormann, who has always avoided discovery or capture. Proof may not be easy. Photographs of Bormann are rare, and we can't photograph him now." When he reached his room Lund threw himself down wearily in the velvet covered armchair.
"Is there anything else you want to ask me?" he asked.
"The sailor Brunke?"
Lund nodded. "He saw me in Braun's cabin from the deck outside. Through the window. He came around to the door to demand that I was doing. I engaged him in talk and walked out onto the deck with him again." Lund's mouth twisted and his eyes bleamed oddly.
"There is a useful instrument in every surgeon's kit. A short-handled hammer used in bone work. You came close to identifying it, Mr. Lynch, when you examined Heitzig. I struck Brunke with it. As he fell I caught him by the knees and lifted him. We were close to the railing. It was a regrettable necessity."
"You gave Heitzig, however," Lynch stated, "the best of care."
Lund's smile had grown subtly arrogant. "Of course! I could not afford suspicion with my mission hardly begun."
Lynch nodded. "We know the rest, I think. You injected a heavy dose of morphia in Meer last night with the assurance it would make him sleep. You repeated it this morning. May I inquire why you returned the key to Meer's cabin?"
"Because, sir, I had no objection to the gold chests being discovered if they did not fall into improper hands. But what gave me away?"
Lynch smiled. "When you came on the watchman Heitzig in Sand's office he was, I assume, still unconscious. Deane here had struck him with what citizens of the London underworld call a 'cosh'. The blow, though not serious, had left a perceptible swelling. But you, a physician, did not mention it. By that singular omission, you invited suspicion."
"Follow? The shot you fired at Meer at the fortress I then regarded as conclusive that no one else would be willing to risk by Meer's death the likely chance the knowledge of the whereabouts of the chests might die with him. That shot convinced me gain was not the motive. Only Deane, Sand and I knew Braun had Meer's chart."
"A word, gentlemen," Lund said quietly. "During the Nazi occupation of my country my wife died of hunger and neglect. My son was killed in the resistance. I myself spent three years in Buchenwald. A story, a suspicious, though a garbled story, reached me. . . . It chanced I was an acquaintance of my predecessor on this yacht. I removed him. With arsenic. A carefully measured dose, I assure you." We went out on the after deck.
"Was it accident or design," I asked, "that the air conditioning conked out?"
Lynch chuckled. "Design I left instructions with the engineer. But I'd no idea, of course, the result would be so happy. I meant merely to make 'em more uncomfortable."
A dim figure at the stern rail turned out to be Lily.
"Nice going, lads," she greeted us almost respectfully. "I rather liked the little man. He seemed so meek."
A white garbed sailor crossed the deck to us and saluted.
"I've been looking for you, sir," he said to Lynch. "Mr. Dibble asked me to give you this." He held out an envelope.
What he heard was the sharp starting explosion of a powerful motor, which in an instant lapsed into a low humming. It was not far off. Someone had started up the sleek speedboat.
The note the sailor had brought Lynch was scrawled in a handsome hand. It was brief.
"Dear Old Boy—I was so hurt when you said I cared for money, I have decided to run away. My love to Viggo — R. D."
I am afraid all of us were smiling.
"The chest we lugged down yesterday!" said Lily.
"One hundred thirty-five thousand, four hundred and seventy-five dollars." I had done my homework.
"I shall now," Lynch said, "leave you two alone. Good night!"
We looked mutely after him. Lily took my arm in both of hers and snuggled close to me.
"You're quite sure, Bobby, you haven't any money? Nor any way of getting any?"
My imagination, I found, was dwelling on those 19 chests at the bottom of the sea.
"I could practice diving?"
"Do!" said Lily.

Woman, 36, Begins Another Year Of 'Living Death'

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP)—A woman in the prime of life has begun another year of "living death" from which she will never emerge.

Mrs. Abbie Lelah Howland, 36, has been in a coma since Dec. 4, 1951, when she suffered a brain injury in an automobile accident. Doctors at San Joaquin General hospital say there is no hope for her.

Mrs. Howland stares at the ceiling of her hospital room without seeing. She cannot speak or move. She takes nourishment through tubes leading from her mouth into her stomach.

Her coma is the longest on record.

Roger Brissenden, acting administrator of the hospital, says she may live to a ripe old age.

"But she will still be in a coma," he added.

40 Killed in Algeria Street Battle
